

Contract of the Super Family

Yes, I know, it's a lot of information. But you need to know these things if you want to become the new Chronicler of the Super Family. There are many events and things you need to keep in mind while you do stuff. Such as...

Section I) Traditions, Beliefs, and Life Facts.

The SF is very spiritual and religious. They are Christians, but are different than all others. They get Angel E-Mail from God and Jesus annually, usually asking questions about the Evil content going on.

The Super Family's powers are created by a small pill that can only be digested by "Powerteam at Heart" individuals, which are elite groups that have done a monumentous act to (help) save the world or something.

Members also take another pill to give them eternal life. Because of this, when the members of the SF reach the age they are naturally meant to perish, they become very sick for about a month or two. Another feature of the eternal pill is the ability to sustain the age the consumer takes the pill at. For example, Baby Sam could be six years old naturally, but he would be a one-year-old physically and mentally if that were when he took the pill.

Feasts and banquets are held every special holiday of the year. These feasts are usually enormous, considering that they must feed approximately 100 hungry stomachs and then some for guests.

Members of the Super Family don't get very many presents for their extravagantly celebrated birthdays, but this is made up for on Christmas, Easter, Vacation Bash (A time in early summer when Beach Days are celebrated), Autumn Day, and Halloween. Gifts, on these special days, are given at a breakneck pace and don't stop coming until the owner is satisfied.

Books of Attacks.

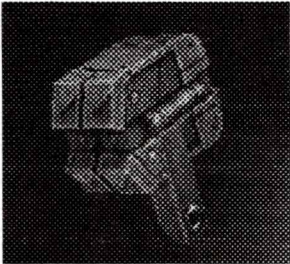

The Super Family goes on vacation to an abandoned island in the center of the Arkot Ocean, where Crash Bandicoot and Coco Bandicoot do research most of the time. Here, tourists never come. They don't even know it exists.

The SF's hideout is sandwiched between the twin cities of Johto and Kanto, or Tohjo. There is a grueling road to the actual building, and it is disguised as a library! (Map in handbook)

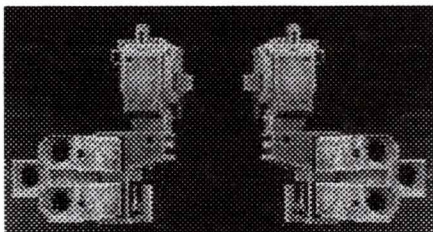

Section 2) The Armored Core and S.F. Military.

The Super Family lives in an Armored Core, which is their mobile space station for getting around the universe. But this is no ordinary AC. The Super Family AC is approximately FIVE-HUNDRED MILES HIGH AND WIDE, AND ONE THOUSAND MILES LONG. The godly-sized battle station is capable of reaching speeds up to 2,000,000 times the speed of light (372,000,000,000 miles per second), but such high speeds put a high demand on the AC's many generators. They can only support 1 minute on this hyperspace, resulting in 22,320,000,000,000 mpm total (only used for emergency situations).

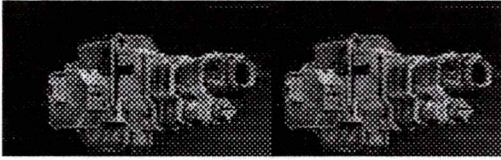

The AC is equipped with many types of weapons. Here is a list:

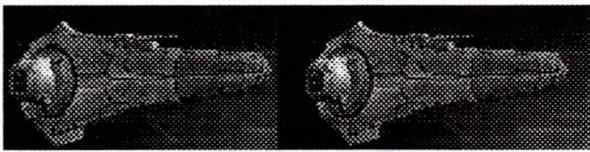

1) High Accuracy Missiles- these are used to track opponents with high mobility. The missiles' increased turning rate makes them hard to avoid, but they don't puncture heavy armor well. Up to 50 can be fired at a time.

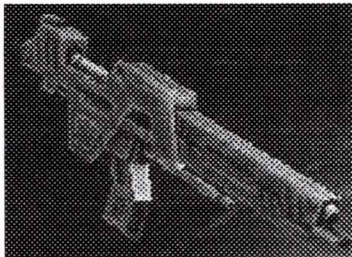

2) Large Missile Launchers- These two cannons on each side of the AC launch missiles capable of destroying an entire planet if not intercepted by anti-missiles in time. Large Missiles are slow because of their bulky appearance and only 10 are carried on the AC for safety purposes.

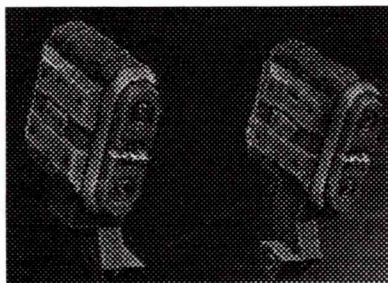

3) Dual Grenade Cannons- Carrying 2,000,000 grenades, these are capable of wreaking absolute havoc on an enemy fleet. As one of the primary close-proximity weapons, it is used continuously in battle. They are equipped on either side of the AC, and propped outward in confrontations.

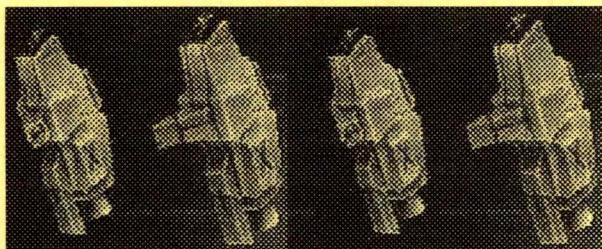

4) Arm Extensions- These are equipped on the edges of the AC's shoulders and pointed up leaning about 70 degrees backward. They provide extra armor and weapon space, as well as a shield generator. This energy shield surrounds the entire AC, deflecting enemy attacks.

5) Linear Gun- The AC uses this back-mounted cannon primarily to snipe weak points on an enemy transport. Outstanding precision and range make it specially suited for this job.

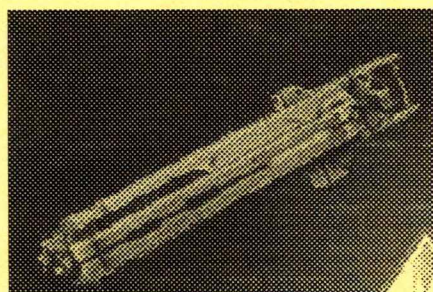

6) Multi Missile Launchers- these are stored inside the core when not in use. It fires 4 missiles at once. When these missiles approach the enemy, they each burst into 8 small missiles. The small missiles then burst into 16 micro missiles, resulting in 512 missiles launched. The units only contain 20 multi missiles.

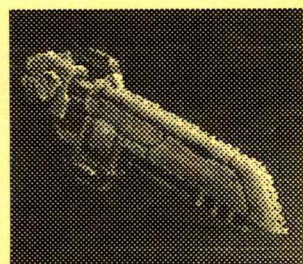

7) Add Boosters- These are all attached onto the back of the AC's legs, and provide added boost power without extra strain on the generators.

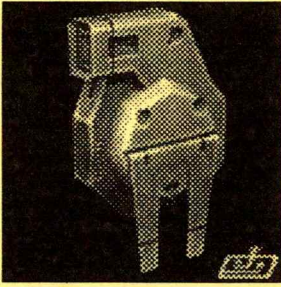

8) Dual Napalm Rocket Launchers- When the AC cannot puncture a foe's exterior armor, it's time to overheat it. These rockets set targets on fire and destroy interior systems.

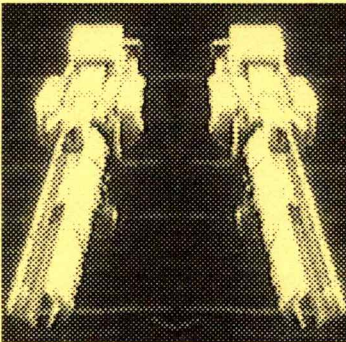

9) Dual Laser Rifle- this is a custom-made weapon that combines the power of 2 Karasawas and is the AC's primary weapon. It is held by the AC's right hand.

10) Plasma Rifle- this is more powerful than the laser rifle, but has less ammo and takes longer to reload. It is mounted on the AC's left arm.

11) Utility Station- This unit is mounted on the base of the arm extension, and prevents missiles from locking onto their target when activated. It also contains a radar, generator, and FCS jammer for stealth.

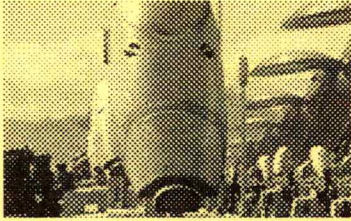

12) Dual Linear Cannons- these are the most powerful weapons on the AC, and take 24 hours to charge. Once unleashed, they are capable of erasing an entire solar system just by destroying the sun. The twin cannons MUST be maintained in order for them to work at an optimum level. Sheer recoil from the cannons puts the AC's systems on reserve mode for at least 3 days.

13) Tractor Generator- Tractor generators are designed to give the AC its own gravity and allowing starships to orbit the AC if out of fuel. The generator is also used to draw in enemy craft and take the crew captive.

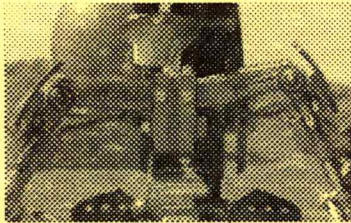

14) Anti-Gravity Boosters- these are mostly used to lift the AC in an upward direction, and to counter enemy tractor beams. They also allow the AC to land on a planet without impact shock from contact.

The AC does not only house the Super Family, it also contains 13,000,000 civilians that live and work there as a part of their daily life. Lifestyles differ inside different parts of the AC. The Legs, which are the largest section of the AC, has many forests, oceans, and cities. The Core, which is the industrial metropolis, is much like Las Vegas, only bigger. The Arms are shopping malls, markets, and grocery stores mostly. The Head is a business capital where only the rich can afford to live, and it is here that the Super Family makes their home. (AC data and picture in Handbook.)

The AC's army consists mainly of battle droids, destroyer droids, Bohrok, attack vehicles, and troop & weapon transports. Here is another list of pictures and data from the army.

1) Battle Droids- Battle droids are very efficient. Their humanoid builds allow them to operate machinery and pilot a wide variety of war craft designed for organic pilots. Billions are stored in the AC, and they are standard ground troops.

2) Destroyer Droids- Unlike the spindly battle droids, whose humanoid builds allow them a degree of versatility, destroyer droids are designed with one sole function in mind: the complete annihilation of their targets. The bronzen-armored combat automata has a frightening build, insectoid in its mix of curves and sharp angles. Slung at the end of heavy arms are immense twin blasters, which unleash destructive energy at a pounding pace. The destroyer droid can completely envelope itself in a globe of protective energy via its compact deflector shield generators.

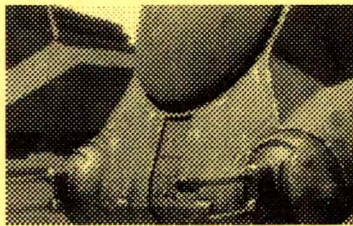

3) The Bohrok Swarms- 6 elemental swarms of insect like creatures. They used to ravage the island of Mata-Nui, where the Toa occasionally live, but they were released from evil's grasp by the SF. (See the 4th movie: Beware the Bohrok) When one is destroyed in battle, another is born.

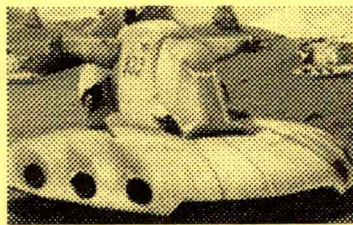

4) Super Family Landing Ship- With its huge wingspan and imposing boot-shaped loading ramp, the Super Family landing ship is a daunting sight. These ships are deployed from the AC to land troops onto a select planet. Once on the surface, they disgorge hundreds of AATs, MTTs, troop transports and battle droids into the wilderness. They have powerful laser cannons that they use if attacked.

5) Droid Starfighter- Billions of these are released from the AC's hangars every battle and are standard spacecraft. They are equipped with middle missiles and plasma cannons.

6) Multi Troop Transport (MTT)- The mammoth MTT (Multi-Troop Transport) is an armored giant capable of disgorging over a hundred battle droid soldiers into the thick of combat. The vehicle's bulbous armored front end opens to reveal an articulated deployment rack, upon which rest dozens of compressed battle droids. The rack extends forward and deposits the droids into neatly organized rows. Upon activation from the orbiting AC, the droids unfold into their humanoid configuration. The transports have long-range laser cannons for defense.

7) Armored Assault Tank (AAT)- These assault tanks form the frontline of the Super Family armored infantry divisions. A crew of battle droids drive the battle tank and operate the array of laser and projectile weaponry carried by the vehicle.
